

Year 4 Weekly update: Tuesday 5th June 2018

Messages:

- This Friday 8th June is Duncombe Number Day.
- Next Monday afternoon (11th June) will be the attendance award afternoon.
- Eid class parties will take place next Thursday 14th June.
- Next Friday 15th June is INSET day.

Maths:

This week, children will be multiplying and dividing whole numbers and decimals by 10 and 100.

We will then begin to look at decimals in the context of money.

English:

Children will be reflecting on their time in Year 4 and will be thinking ahead to their goals for next year. As part of this, they will be focusing on writing well-constructed sentences.

Science:

This week, children will be planning and conducting an experiment. They will be making different paper spinners and will observe and record what affects their speed.

Topic:

Children will be taking part in Philosophy for Children discussions. They will be thinking about gender roles and will be discussing whether particular character traits belong to boys and girls.

Homework:

Reminders: topic and science are optional; spellings, times tables and Mathletics are compulsory every week.

Homework club is held in Shakespeare classroom during Friday lunchtime. Please encourage your child to go if they need help or would like a head start on their homework!
